

TORNADO KILLS 200 AT FERGUS FALLS

FERGUS FALLS IS DEVASTATED BY FIERCE CYCLONE

About Two Hundred Persons Are Reported Killed and Many Others Injured.

DAMAGE VERY HEAVY

With All Wire Communication Disrupted Throughout Stricken Area the Meager Reports Agree on Extent of the Disaster.

Minneapolis, June 23.—A Larson, a real estate man of Fergus Falls, reached Wendell, Minn., 25 miles from Fergus Falls, at 1:30 a. m. by motorcycle with the first story of the disaster from an identified survivor, according to information received here at 2 a. m. He assisted in the rescue work and then made his way across country.

Larson said he assisted in removing ten bodies from the Grand Central hotel. He said the hotel was wrecked and 40 persons were buried in the debris. The peaceful quiet was disrupted by a terrific electric storm, he said, accompanied by heavy rain. Citizens were seeking shelter from the rain when the cyclone struck.

The storm swept through the center of the business district along Union avenue, the principal business street, demolishing practically every building for a distance of three blocks and scores of residences on adjacent streets.

The state hospital and two private hospitals, Wright and St. Luke's, were unharmed, he said. The Great Northern depot was wrecked and a score of persons killed or severely injured. He estimated the number of buildings destroyed in Fergus Falls at 100 but said an estimate on the loss of life was impossible.

Minneapolis, June 23.—More than 200 persons are believed to have been killed in a tornado which swept Fergus Falls and Western Minnesota. Four hundred persons are said to have been injured, and hundreds of buildings demolished, in Minnesota's greatest disaster since the forest fires which swept the northern part of the state last year.

With telegraph and telephone connections disrupted throughout the entire area over which the tornado passed, and no telegraph line standing nearer than 35 miles to Fergus Falls, reports from widely scattered localities agreed as to the number of dead and injured.

Grand Central Hotel Wrecked.

In the havoc wrought by the wind is the destruction of the Grand Central hotel in Fergus Falls, in the ruins of which 75 persons are thought to be buried; the demolishing of the Northern Pacific passenger and freight station, and the overturning of the Great Northern "Oriental Limited" near Carlisle, where eight coaches filled with passengers were blown into a ditch.

Latest available reports said that three blocks in the business section of the city had been wiped out.

Relief agencies were at work within a short time after news of the tornado was received in Minneapolis. Governor Burnquist, Adjutant General Rhinow, Major Bellows, and 150 members of the Fourth Minnesota Infantry, National guard, left the Great Northern station in Minneapolis for Fergus Falls. A corps of doctors, 30 nurses, and residents of Fergus Falls were also on the train.

At the same time a railroad wrecking crew left from St. Paul, a second special relief train left for the scene of the disaster by way of Moorhead, and throughout the western section of the state doctors and nurses and supplies were speeding toward Fergus Falls early today.

Civilian agencies also were at work.

Bela Kun, replying, says, according to the dispatch, that the Hungarian government has suspended hostilities as requested.

GRAND CENTRAL HOTEL WRECKED ---MORE THAN 70 PEOPLE BURIED IN RUINS

GREAT NORTHERN ORIENTAL LIMITED BLOWN BLOWN TRACKS--CARS WERE OVERTURNED

St. Paul, June 23.—Reports from various sources early today indicated probably two hundred were killed in the tornado which swept over Fergus Falls last night. The storm cut a path probably thirty miles long damaging buildings at Barnesville, Rothsay and Carlisle. It is not known whether there were casualties at these points. Railroad officials expected the death toll to be increased when the country districts are penetrated by relief parties. Fergus Falls is cut off from all communication. The Great Northern and Northern Pacific depots there were wrecked. Two persons were killed at the Northern Pacific depot and the debris blocked the track. An overhead bridge was blown on the right of way. Wrecking crews said the track would be cleared by noon. The Great Northern crack coast train, the Oriental Limited, was blown from the tracks four miles west of Fergus Falls when the storm struck. All but two day coaches were overturned. Officials of the road said there were none "badly hurt."

Reports from Alexandria, Wadena, Melrose, Otter Lake, and other Minnesota cities all estimated the dead at around two hundred.

The storm struck on Main street at the Grand Central hotel, and swept down buildings on either side for a block. More than 70 were buried in the hotel debris, according to reports at Wahpeton, N. D. Hospitals are filled with the injured. Relief trains from St. Cloud and St. Paul carrying state officials, doctors, nurses, and guardsmen were to reach Fergus Falls this morning.

Not More Than 50 Were Killed

St. Paul, June 23.—Adjutant General W. F. Rhinow telephoned from Fergus Falls at noon that not more than fifty were killed in the tornado which wrecked the Grand Central Hotel, Northwestern college, two depots and scores of farm buildings last night. He estimated the injured at over one hundred. The line was so bad no details could be learned.

Harold Darker, editor of the Grant County Herald telephoned from Elbow Lake after returning from Fergus Falls, that not more than sixty are dead and 160 are injured. He said the Grand Central hotel was crushed. The state hospital and other hospitals escaped. The officials of the federal court from St. Paul escaped and went to Detroit in an automobile.

OFFICIAL DEATH LIST NOW 48

CALM FOLLOWS RIOTS

Federal Soldiers Are On Duty in Winnipeg Streets.

Major Gray Says Investigation Shows That Strikers and Not Police Fired First.

Winnipeg, Man., June 23.—Winnipeg was quiet after the bloody rioting of Saturday afternoon. The city is not under martial law, but federal soldiers still are on duty in the business district to aid and support the civil authorities. Certain defined areas are still guarded by soldiers.

Mayor Charles F. Gray issued a statement in which he declared that an investigation showed that strikers, and not Royal Northwest Mounted police fired the first shots. He declared that the riot followed addresses by union men who had made "inflammatory speeches."

The soldiers were withdrawn from Main street, and the duty of policing this district was again taken over by returned soldier constables. Traffic is proceeding normally, except for street cars. Soldiers are held in readiness at barracks.

No additional deaths were reported. Three men who sustained bullet wounds are said to be in a serious condition. Official records show one death, 14 persons suffered from bullet wounds and upwards of 60 who sustained less serious injuries.

In the past 36 hours 22 foreigners have been arrested.

Minneapolis, June 23.—Minneapolis suffered considerable property damage when it was struck by the far ends of the storm which raged throughout western Minnesota. Plate glass windows were broken, trees were uprooted, lamp posts were snapped off and many persons were injured by flying glass, the police believe, although few were injured seriously enough to be taken to the hospitals. Although there were hundreds of canoeists on the city's lakes when the storm broke, no drownings had been reported.

FOE ASSEMBLY ACCEPTS TERMS

ALLIED ENVOYS FIRM

All Requests of Germans for Further Alterations Have Been Rejected and Enemy Must Take Treaty Just As It Is Drawn.

Berlin, June 23.—Germany will sign the peace treaty of the Allied and associated powers. The National Assembly by vote of 237 to 138 decided to sign. The assembly also voted confidence in the new government of Herr Gustav Sauer, 236 to 89. Sixty-eight members abstained from voting.

On the question of signing five members of the assembly abstained from voting.

Before the vote of confidence was taken, Premier Bauer declared the government would sign the treaty, but without acknowledging the responsibility of the German people for the war and without accepting the obligations contained in Articles 227 to 230 in the treaty relating to the trial of the former emperor and the extradition of other German personages. Offer sent to conference.

Paris, June 23.—The offer of the National Assembly at Weimar has been communicated to the peace conference in Paris, which has discussed its provisions, including reservations made by the Germans against affixing their signatures to the document while it contains clauses acknowledging the responsibility of the German people for the war and demanding the trial of former emperor William.

All the requests of the Germans for further alterations have been rejected by the Allies, and Germany now must give her acquiescence to the treaty as it stands before the expiration of the time limit this afternoon.

Troops Are Ready to March.

All is in readiness on the part of the Allied troops in the occupied areas. More than 500,000 soldiers are concentrated here and are only awaiting the word to march eastward into Germany if the Germans prove obdurate. About 150,000 Americans are included in this force.

On the other hand preparations are being made at Versailles to hold a session of the Peace conference during the present week at which the Germans may affix their signatures to the treaty in the famous Hall of Mirrors in the Trianon Palace.

Four Notes Received From Foe.

WOMAN'S REALM

PARASOLS ARE GAY

Feather Edge in Pointed Effect of Wavy Curling Tips.

Sunshades Different in Ways From Predecessors as to Materials of Which They Are Made.

The feather trimming which has adorned dancing frocks all winter will be seen during the summer gayly waving along the edges of parasols. One of the imported models of very dark blue silk has a Belgian blue feather edge running along in a pointed effect of wavy curling tips. Of course it is unusual enough to cause the most blasé person to say, "Well, for goodness sake."

Still another model also of the deep blue which we call midnight has a narrow fringe of red uncurled ostrich and this somehow does not seem so startling as the curly feather for the reason that we have often seen fringe on parasols, and the uncurled ostrich closely resembles fringe.

Parasols this summer are different in many ways from their predecessors, not as to their main characteristics, for after all a parasol is a parasol and can only be of certain shapes, but as to the materials of which they are made. A very handsome one of finest black net is lined with soft black chiffon. On the outside a band of silver and black lace 12 inches deep goes entirely around the outside in a flat circle. This parasol is really beautiful and makes one wonder why we have never seen things like it before. The handles of all of these are of dark, handsome wood with no carving, and the ribs and tips are of white bone.

One seldom sees the long handles which were so fashionable some seasons ago, for the correct parasol of the moment both for rain and sun is rather short as to handle and shorter as to tip. The new silks impervious to any kind of weather are shown in lovely colors, so that it is possible to match any costume. The smartest of these little utility umbrellas have leather loops through the handles and by means of which they can be carried over the arm.

Velvet parasols are new enough to cause comment, designed perhaps for service with the newest of the sport coats, which are at this moment being made of velvet with collars and revers of white Angora wool. In fact almost every material which has never been used before is appearing in parasols this season—challis, organdie, cretonne and linene, though of course the latter two materials have been used year after year.

His Better Self—Maybe; Or, Straining the Ancestral Strain

THIS suspicious pose brings to mind the fact that Bryant Washburn's granduncle was Dwight L. Moody, famous revivalist. Bryant never showed any leanings towards an evangelistic career, however; in fact, his ability to suppress momentarily the famous grin for the benefit of the above picture is only another outcropping of the dramatic talent which led him to head for the footlights immediately upon graduation from school in Chicago. The pose is not so far fetched when one notices that the title of the book under Bryant's arm is "Ancient History," which happens to be his favorite form of heavy reading matter. Nevertheless it's a coincidence that the name of his next Paramount Picture should be "Bringing It Over."

SIMPLY COULD NOT FORGET

Macaulay's Memory Could Only Be Described as Marvelous—John Bright a Close Second.

Talking of quickness in repartee a story of Sydney Smith was cited I had not yet heard. "Do tell me, Mr. Smith," exclaimed a rather gushing young lady, "what is dogmatism?" "My dear young lady," he replied, "dogmatism is only puppyism grown older."

I remember at breakfast one day at my father's, Lord Macaulay began to repeat some trashy old historical ballads, and so went on verse after verse until my father exclaimed, "Why, Macaulay, how can you have committed all that rubbish to memory? What utter waste of time!" "Committed to memory!" cried Macaulay. "I only wish I could forget it. I simply glanced over those verses when standing at a bookstall one day." If I remember rightly, he said at the same time that if the first four books of Milton's "Paradise Lost" were destroyed, he could reproduce them word for word.

Mr. Bright and Mr. Longfellow met each other for the first time at our breakfast table and were mightily delighted with each other. Again the conversation turned upon memory, and John Bright asked Mr. Longfellow whether he could identify and claim every line of poetry he had ever written. Mr. Longfellow thought he could not. Then he in turn put the question—would Mr. Bright be able to identify every one of the speeches he had made? "Yes," said Mr. Bright, "not every passage, perhaps, taken by itself, but given a certain amount of the context I undoubtedly could."—From "The Notebook of a Spinster Lady."

NEEDLEWORK AND ORGANDIE

Needlework and organdie are combatants for summer popularity, but when they go hand in hand the result is noticeable. This frock is of yellow organdie with rows of little yellow garden roses embroidered on the skirt, sleeves and vestee.

MAKE COOL LOOKING FROCKS

Silk and Cotton Voile Are Summery in Appearance and Give Pleasure to Wearer.

Summer brings the usual demand for cool looking dresses developed in georgette, cotton and silk voile, gingham, swiss or challis. The latter fabric is shown in very dainty patterns and may be used to make serviceable frocks of the semi-tailored type. Bands of ribbon, plings of satin and similar trimming touches have the preference. Many rows of stitching also are used to good effect on challis dresses.

Dresses of cotton voile are decidedly summery in appearance, but not quite so desirable for general wear as those made of the lovely printed silk voiles that are having such a vogue this season. A frock of printed silk voile may be used for either afternoon or evening, is generally becoming, and a frock of this material is rather inexpensive, as no applied trimming is required. Often the foundation for such a frock will be of plain colored material, giving a pretty note of contrast. The sash or belt may be of plain satin or taffeta.

The dotted swiss especially favored this season has background of black or color with white dots. It is decidedly effective.

Navy taffeta is holding its own in the lineup of favored materials for both dresses and suits.

Judging from some advance fall frocks now coming over from Paris there is an evident effort to popularize the high collar. One model is of fine wool jersey in a pretty shade of gray, made to button close to the neck. The inside of the collar, however, is faced with a rich blue velvet, so that it may be opened, forming a V neck and revers.

The collarless neck is so comfortable that all efforts to create a vogue for high collared affairs have failed for many seasons, and there is no reason to believe that American women this year will be inclined to sacrifice comfort to a doubtful becomingness.

The Standard Oil Company and the Automobile Industry

PROBABLY no existing industry serves such a useful purpose in so many ways as the automobile industry, and certainly no industry has had such a meteoric increase in proportions.

Such an increase would have been impossible of accomplishment if a market for moderate priced cars had not been found, and without the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) it would have been impossible to find this market.

When only the rich could afford an automobile the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) had the vision of most everyone driving his own machine.

The Company set out, not to find a way to make gasoline prices higher, but to keep them low in the face of the enormous demands made by the automobilists, which in the average industry would have caused abnormal increases in price.

The efficiency of the Standard Oil Company in making a constantly increasing number of by-products has kept down the price of gasoline and enabled the man of modest means to run an automobile after he got it.

The Standard Oil Company not only makes gasoline to sell at a low price, but to fit the requirements of the modern automobile engine in such a manner as to enable the owner to get out of his car all that the manufacturer designed it to produce.

This is a salient example of the usefulness of the Standard Oil Company not only in contributing to the success of other industries, but in discharging its obligation as a public servant so that all may benefit from its efficiency and by its operations.

THE BIG ISSUE

With the peace treaty signed, the United States can get down to business and determine what it is going to do about the treaty in general and the League of Nations in particular.

Up to this time, discussion has been rather chaotic, tending to obscure the issue rather than clarify it. This has been particularly true of the discussion in the United States Senate. The treaty was not in its final form, and was not formally before the Senate or the public. It was known in its main essentials, but even those essentials were made uncertain by partisan argument and the lack of organized, authoritative explanations and criticism.

Now the whole complex document will be submitted to the American people for approval or rejection. The president, who has had more to do with the matter than any other American, is coming home to explain and defend it. Intelligent and purposeful discussion can start at once.

The treaty will be debated everywhere. For weeks, possibly for months, it will be the main theme of public and private discussion. Its important points will be threshed out as are the issues of a big national campaign. Stump, platform, press and pulpit will all play their part. As a result, the public will soon know a great deal more about the principles involved, and the practical application of them in the treaty, and the reasons for and against the various disputable parts of the document than it knows today. Little by little, public opinion, now somewhat confused, will clarify. The nation will make up its mind. And as the nation's views become clear and definite, Congress will shape its own views accordingly.

As the public decides, the Senate will vote. For even so high and mighty a body as the United States Senate knows perfectly well that it is only the servant of the people, and is powerless except as it reflects their will.

The taking of this issue before the people is a good thing from every angle. It is the only way to settle the issue satisfactorily, for America and for the world.

All citizens owe it to themselves and their country to follow the great debate, so far as possible, with minds open to conviction, shaping their opinions not from prejudice, but from the merits of the case as set forth in this full, free, final discussion now beginning. It is one of the most momentous problems the American people ever had to settle, and it cannot be settled right without a statesmanlike attitude on the part of private citizens as well as public servants.

The Old Name for Windsor.

English royalty has resided at Windsor castle ever since Edward the Confessor built a hunting lodge just at the place where there came a great curve in the gentle river. In his "Child's Guide to London," Mr. A. A. Methley writes that the old name for the place was Windleshora or Windleshores, which may have meant "Windling shore," from the curve of the river at this point. Other say, however, that the word is derived from the "winding" of a willow tree.

REPUBLICANS PLAN FOR TARIFF BILL

MEASURE WILL BE MANAGED BY REPRESENTATIVE FORDNEY AND SENATOR PENROSE.

BOTH ARE HIGH TARIFF MEN

Party Policy and Politics, However, May Lead to the Framing of a Bill Which Democrats Will Support and Wilson Will Sign.

By EDWARD B. CLARK.

Washington.—At the coming extra session of congress the Republican majority in the house will introduce a tariff bill. Its destinies in the lower house will be guided by Joseph W. Fordney of Michigan, and in the upper house by Boies Penrose of Pennsylvania. Therefore the measure will be known as the Fordney-Penrose bill.

The country had had tariff bills under various names, the more modern ones being the McKinley bill, the Wilson bill, the Dingley bill, the Payne-Aldrich bill and the Underwood-Simmons bill.

What will the Republicans do with it and what will the president do with it? If Mr. Fordney of Michigan and Mr. Penrose of Pennsylvania go the full bent of their high tariff inclinations and their Republican following shall support them, Mr. Wilson unquestionably will go the bent of his inclinations and will veto the measure.

If, however, the Republicans take the course, which some of them urge should be followed, of preparing a tariff measure which is simply a measure of readjustment, they probably will get Democratic support for it and very likely Mr. Wilson's signature.

All Admit Changes Necessary.

The Democrats with the Republicans in Washington today are admitting that tariff changes are necessary, but of course there is as much difference of opinion between them as to what kind of changes should be made as ever there was between parties in the history of tariff tinkering or tariff making.

The Republicans differ among themselves as to what should be done at the coming session. Everybody knows, of course, that Mr. Fordney is an extremely high tariff advocate and that Mr. Penrose pretty nearly agrees with him. It may be, however, that the Republicans will consider it not only bad policy, but bad politics, to attempt to frame at the coming session a tariff measure when will be in full sympathy with the Republican leaders' views on the schedules.

The thought of some of the Republicans is that it will be better to present a bill at the coming session which will make certain tariff changes, but which will not go to the extreme of the ordinary Republican doctrine on the subject. The plea of some of the Republican leaders is that it would be better to wait for full tariff legislation on what they hope will be a Republican victory at the polls in 1920. Then they say they can put a tariff bill through which will be sure to become a law.

Some of the Democrats express the hope that the Republicans will go the full limit of tariff legislation at the coming session. The Democrats who hope that this will happen are those, of course, who believe that the Republicans will frame a measure with such high schedules in it that the people will disapprove and will decline to sanction such an effort at the polls in 1920.

Tariff Debate Sure to Come. Washington, however, apparently is in for a session or two of tariff debate. The schedules will hold their old places in the center of the stage, and the duties on articles from lumber to corset laces will be productive of wrangles of the kind which marked the various tariff sessions from the earliest days. If it were not for the disputes as to what properly are dutiable articles, the whole thing would be sleepily dull.

Representative Fordney is not at all new to the tariff debate field. He was one of the champions of the Payne-Aldrich bill on the floor of the house, and while making a speech one day he offended a Democratic member, or else the Democratic member offended him—memory does not carry the exact fact—and instantly Fordney's opponent in the debate ran down the hall, shedding his coat as he ran, with the very evident purpose of mixing it up with the Michigan representative.

Both men were huskies, Fordney, it is said, once on a time worked as a lumber jack. The other man, just Fordney's build, had been a farmer and had led the outdoor life from boyhood. The galleries prepared themselves to see a very pretty set-to, but half a dozen Democrats grabbed their belligerent brother and made him go back to his seat. Many near fights have occurred during tariff debates. The subject may be a dull one, but nevertheless it has plenty of red pepper in it.

Bank Cashier Killed by Neighbor.

Galena, Ill., June 20.—Earl A. Fitch, 37, cashier of the Merchants National bank, was shot and killed in front of his home by his neighbor, Frank Willy, police say. Four shots were fired, two going wild. Fitch formerly was connected with the Corn Exchange National bank of Chicago.

Brincken Asks for Pardon.

San Francisco, June 20.—Protesting an ardent devotion to the United States and a fear that he will be deported with his wife and family if the desired action is not taken, Baron George Wilhelm Von Brincken, reserve lieutenant in the German army, now in prison at McNeil's Island for neutrality violations, has applied to President Wilson for a pardon. Von Brincken asks that he be permitted to become a citizen of the country "he has learned to love."

on M. & I.

The first news of the catastrophe at Fergus Falls was telephoned the Dispatch by the Duluth News Tribune at 11:20 p. m. Sunday. Immediately after the Dispatch reporter tried to get in communication with Brainerd people but his house telephone quit functioning just when needed the most and he ran down town in the rain to use a down town telephone.

Reports first gave the death toll at Fergus Falls from 200 to 400; the cyclone as cutting a swath of destruction which leveled the Northern Pacific depot in Fergus Falls and buried 50 people in the ruins; which caught a Great Northern train and wrecked it as it entered the vicinity of Fergus Falls.

Up along the Minnesota & International railway telephone and telegraph wires were damaged by the storm which seemed to have reached the height of its fury at Fergus Falls and swept by Walker and Wadena. At Walker section men labored in the night and patched up washouts on the road. From 5 o'clock on in the afternoon it had been a matter of difficulty to reach either Bemidji, Walker or Backus by telephone. Duluth wires and Minneapolis held up. Along the Lake Superior division trainmen reported no atmospheric disturbances. The midnight train from Duluth reported rain falling at Deerwood.

Rain fell heavily and there was considerable wind at Brainerd at 11:20 p. m. and later during the night at intervals.

It was reported by a passenger on the St. Paul train that at 9 o'clock the people of St. Cloud were aroused by the fire siren and home guards, doctors, nurses, volunteers, were called out for a special relief train.

***** BRAINERD PEOPLE ARE RUSHING TO DISASTER *****

Brainerd people have relatives
at Fergus Falls and are hurrying to the scene to locate them.

F. E. Warren has a wife in Fergus Falls who was at 113
Washington Ave. E. near the Northern Pacific depot which was wrecked.

E. A. Colquhoun's wife and baby were visiting her parents in Fergus Falls.

Miss Hannah Hjermstad, sister of Mrs. I. J. Storstad, lived in Fergus Falls and is employed by Dick Angus. The family is addressing inquiries to locate her.

Fergus Falls had a cyclone
many years ago, old settlers say.
Sank Rapids was struck by a twister in 1885 which killed
the parents of Jerry St. Cyr.
Brainerd M. & I. railway conductor, said trainmen as they discussed the recent catastrophe.

***** Brainerd Acts Quickly *****

Brainerd was one of the first cities outside the immediate territory of the cyclone to offer assistance to the sufferers.

Early this morning, Secretary F.
T. Lincoln of the Chamber of Commerce called a hurried conference between W. H. Gemmell, general manager of the M. & I., Dr. J. A. Thabes, president of the Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. J. A. Thabes, county chairman of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Thabes promptly arranged with local nurses to be ready for an emergency call. Dr. Thabes prepared to go personally and enlist the services of other local physicians, while W. H. Gemmell kept in close touch with the situation by telegram.

A telephone message was sent to Governor J. A. A. Burnquist to the effect that Brainerd was ready to assist with nurses and physicians and Mrs. Thabes phoned Red Cross headquarters at Minneapolis for instructions and to secure further details.

All communications were cut off between Fergus Falls and this city and it was planned to take the 11:15
a. m. train to the scene of the disaster
if the services of local people were needed. Information was later received that relief trains had gone from Fargo, Wadena and Staples with nurses and physicians and that there was no immediate need for assistance from this city.

A message of appreciation from Governor Burnquist's office by phone was received by the Chamber of Commerce and the committee advised to hold itself in readiness, should later demands be made upon it.

FORD PICNIC WAS BIG SUCCESS

758 Cars Registered, 100 Foreign Cars and Couple Hundred Fords
Not Registering

ATTENDANCE CLOSE TO 6,000

Day One of Great Enjoyment Unmarred by Any Accidents, Scene of Picnic Mille Lacs Lake

The first annual Ford picnic given under the auspices of the Woodhead Motor Co. at Garrison on the shores of Mille Lacs lake Saturday, June 21, drew an attendance of 758
Fords registered by their owners,
with several more hundred not registering and a hundred foreign cars of other makes. It is estimated by John F. Woodhead, head of the Woodhead Motor Co., that the attendance was from 5,500 to 6,000 people.

So gigantic was the picnic and all its arrangements that some people had the idea that Henry Ford himself was conducting the picnic, but such is not the case. It was the Brainerd firm which was host for the occasion. Barrels and barrels of lemonade, huge tanks of hot coffee, tons of peanuts, candy, popcorn, freezers
of ice cream were given away to all Ford owners, their families and friends.

Bigger than any sociability run ever staged in the Northwest, larger than any automobile tour, the Fords filled a solid space parking in tiers of four to ten for two miles along the lake shore. The grounds were illuminated by lighting plants. Pumps installed furnished fresh water.

A dancing platform provided space
for free dancing, the Faust orchestra of five pieces from Pierz playing. Assisting Mr. Woodhead as judges were
Hon. F. E. Little, mayor of Brainerd;
Hon. A. A. Weidemann, vice president of the Brainerd Water and Light
Board; Otto Wendt, William Sasser, Walter Peterson, Frank Calkins, and
E. H. Horn, the latter from Duluth.

The prize list for the sports was a formidable one and the prizes, all articles which any car owner would delight to possess, ranging from tires to motorcycles, etc. were hotly contested for.

There were races against time on a two mile country road course. Chas.
Nelson jumped the track and landed in a swamp, but had the usual proverbial Ford luck by escaping injury to himself and damage to his machine.

List of Prize Winners

hours 7 minutes having been set by Mayor F. E. Little, was won by Ray

the afternoon and won by Walter Atfeated Bert Orne.

scored first and won a motorometer.

HOSPITAL IS INCORPORATED

Northwestern Hospital to be conducted by the Northwestern Medical & Surgical Association

CAPITAL STOCK TO BE $50,000

First Board of Directors Dr. Joseph
Nicholson, Rev. Eloy G. Carlson,
Sen. George H. Gardner

The Northwestern hospital, well known in city and vicinity, has been made a corporation and will be conducted by a corporation named the Northwestern Medical and Surgical Association of which the incorporators and first board of directors are
Dr. Joseph Nicholson, Rev. Eloy G.
Carlson and Senator George H. Gardner.

The capital stock is $50,000. The objects of the corporation shall be the "owning and operating of a general hospital for providing medical and surgical aid, by regularly qualified physicians and surgeons, for men, women and children, to establish a training school for nurses in connection therewith; also to buy,
own, sell, lease and improve real estate therefor."

Directors shall be elected from the stockholders. The annual meeting shall be at the principal place of business on the second Tuesday in June of each year. Officers shall be a president, vice president, secretary, treasurer and general manager.

The Northwestern hospital was founded by Dr. Joseph Nicholson on August 1, 1908 and since that period has treated over 3,000 patients. A training school was conducted in connection with the hospital for years and nurses graduating therefrom were quickly placed in positions of responsibility. A large percentage of cases at the hospital has been surgical.

Dr. Nicholson has preceived the need for a general hospital in Brainerd and is making the change to increase the sphere of usefulness of Northwestern hospital by incorporating, broadening its activities and making it a general hospital.

The hospital occupies half a block of valuable realty on the north side
but a short distance from the heart of the business section. There is available ground for further improvements which will soon be made in the shape of additions, etc. The hospital will be for the use of all reputable physicians and surgeons.

Dr. Nicholson stands high in the medical profession and his kindness, tact, skill and uniform courtesy have gained him many friends.

Rev. Eloy G. Carlson is pastor of the Swedish Lutheran church, a member of the school board and has further enlarged his acquaintanceship by heading the civilian relief committee of the Red Cross. As chairman of the latter he assisted at Lawler and Autamba and other points during the forest fires catastrophe and has spent time and money in assisting soldiers, sailors, marines in war work. He is an active, public spirited citizen.

Senator George H. Gardner is an attorney practicing in the city, whose father, James S. Gardner, is known all over Northern Pacific railway circles as driving one of the first engines on the road. Senator Gardner represented this district one term in the legislature and secured passage of the semi-monthly pay day law and other legislation of benefit to labor.

Card of Thanks
We wish to thank relatives, friends and neighbors, B. A. Y. 692, Bethlehem Evangelical church, Ladies Aid and Young Peoples society for the beautiful floral offerings and for the kindness and sympathy shown us
during our recent illness and sorrow.

These kindly deeds will ever be held dear by us.
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wendt,
and son George.

NOTICE
Will the party who picked up the bicycle ridden by Ole P. Orrvar when he was run over and killed on Broadway recently please return the same to Swanson & Thon's store.

1813 Marohn won first place, and drew a hand horn.

The second ladies auto race was won by Mrs. W. S. Orne, time 2 minutes 31 seconds over a two mile course, and she drew the grand prize
of a Corbin speedometer.

All contestants were Ford owners.
On account of the enormous crowd contests were limited to the first signing up for each group. Had this not been done the crowd would still be competing.

The judges under the direction of
A. A. Weidemann handled the contests admirably and there were no arguments over awards, all going away perfectly satisfied.

EAST BRAINERD P. O. STATION

May be Discontinued July 1 if No
One Can be Prevailed Upon to Take Charge of It

H. A. KAATZ IN CHARGE 2 YEARS

Postmaster H. P. Dunn Anxious to Secure a Successor and Continue
a Great Convenience

By order of the post office department, Station No. 1, East Brainerd is to be discontinued July 1, 1919, unless some one in that section of the city can be prevailed upon to take charge of it.

Hugo A. Kaatz who has had charge of the station for the past two years
feels that he cannot give it the time and attention required and is to give it up on the above date.

The local office has requested a number of business houses in East Brainerd to take charge of the station but all who have been interviewed feel they cannot give it the time necessary to take care of it, so up to the present time it has been unable to secure an applicant.

It is still earnestly hoped that some one may volunteer to accept the station, as it is a great convenience to the people of that section of the city.

WRITES FROM GERMANY

Walter Olson Seen Brainerd Girl in Salvation Army Hut in Coblentz, Germany

Walter Olson of the 3rd Pioneer
Infantry, Co. L., writes his brother
Alrick Olson as follows:

Coblentz, Germany, May 5, 1919.
Dear Brother:

I am well at the present time and hope that you are the same. I am now at Coblentz, Germany, and it is a very nice city, with a population of about 60,000. The street cars are not as large as the ones in the states but they are big enough to ride in.

I also visited the Rhine museum and am sending you a picture of the same. The Rhine river is wonderful, with all the boats that come sailing down its surface.

As I sit here writing in the Salvation Army, I see a girl from Northeast Brainerd, Miss Signa Saunders.
I will talk to her as soon as I have an opportunity, but she is busy just now. I saw Fred Sundeen today for the first time since we left the boat.

I also made a trip to Luxemburg
after four carloads of meat, and it sure was some trip. I was gone two days and two nights and slept out in a box car, and it was hard sleeping on the floor. We saw some very beautiful country on the trip. Luxemburg is a small country by itself.
We went through to the French line.
I expect to see Belgium before I come home. Well can you imagine me in old Dutchland?

I do not know when we are coming home but do not think it will be before September. Have nothing more to tell about just now, so will say so-long for this time.

WALTER OLSON,
Germany.

BOY DROWNED IN NOKAY LAKE

Harland Brockway, age 17, a nephew of Chauncey Brockway of Brainerd, was drowned in the Nokay Sebie river at the C. W. Koering farm late Saturday afternoon. He was one of a group of farm workers and is believed to have perished when he was caught in rushes and sunk in a deep hole in the little river.

Strenuous efforts were made by his friends to save him, many diving repeatedly to locate him.

CHANGE OF TRAIN TIME

Brainerd People Should Pay Attention to Changes in Duluth
and St. Paul Trains

A change of passenger train time
occurred on the Lake Superior division of the Northern Pacific Sunday. The night train from Duluth now arrives at Brainerd at 12:35
and leaves for Staples at 12:50 a. m.

On the St. Paul division changes are Train No. 32 leaves Brainerd for St. Paul at 12:30 p. m. instead of 12:50 in the afternoon. Train 31 comes from St. Paul at 2:10 in the afternoon instead of 1:50 p. m.

ROLL OF HONOR

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. McLellan, today received a wire from their son George that he had safely arrived in New York from duty with the American army of occupation on the Rhine. He was a member of Co.
H, 55th infantry, 7th division, and has been in the service about a year.

He Threw Away His Crutches
"Six years ago I had rheumatism
so bad I was going on crutches,"
writes August Strandell, Sister Bay, Wis. "I tried several medicines and doctors and got no relief. Three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills cured me. I threw away my crutches." Have no equal for weak, sore, aching back, muscles or joints. H. J.
Dunn.

BRAINERD SHOP
PICNIC BIG EVENT

2,500 Estimated to Have Attended the Excursion to Bemidji on Saturday, June 21

PICKNICKED AT DIAMOND POINT

Band and Orchestra Accompanied Specials, Ideal Weather Graced
the Occasion

The Brainerd shop picnic drew 2,500 shopmen, wives, families, sisters, sweethearts to Bemidji on Saturday, the two specials of eight coaches each being crowded. Both trains were delayed at the start. Section No. 1 was delayed three times by a hot box.

The Bemidji band met the picnicers at the station and Diamond Point was the objective for all. Hundreds thronged Bemidji, the business district, went boat riding on Lake Bemidji, fished, went bathing and had a general good time.

The second section pulled in shortly after the first and carried the Brainerd City band and the Blue Ribbon orchestra which played for the dance at the armory.

The day was ideal for the outing. The only jarring note, said a member of the arrangement committee, was the jitneys who deviated from the price established by picnic committee of the shops and the Bemidji business men, that busses were to carry picnicers to Diamond Point for 10c and 5c as advertised in Brainerd. The jitneys met the night before and hoisted the scale to 25c.

The committee men of the shops included Lloyd Jones general chairman, G. J. Kroes secretary, P. M. Bisiar treasurer, C. Bruhn finance, J. J. Roney printing, J. F. Elkins grounds, J. J. Murphy and H. W. Finne transportation, Roland Jenkins sports and John Mankowski and G. Wahlstrom dance.

The cash prize of $3 for applying the correct meaning to "Labor ipse voluptas" was won by Ethel Thomas. A couple came from Bagley and was married at the judge of probate's office. The bride and bridegroom said afterwards had they only known of the $10 picnic prize for a wedding on the grounds, they would gladly have been married there and had 2,500 witness the ceremonies.
